Code of Conduct for the 2025 Gatineau-Ottawa Sasquatch Conference

The 2025 GOSC is a private event that is open to the public. This Code of Conduct applies to everyone in attendance and is intended to set clear expectations of behavior at the 2025 GOSC to ensure that everyone feels safe and welcome, and that the conference is a positive experience for all.

The 2025 GOSC welcomes everyone and celebrates diversity in all its forms, and is dedicated to providing a collaborative, supportive, and engaging environment for everyone involved that is free of discrimination, harassment and retaliation. We expect that everyone foster a respectful and considerate environment that provides interactions that respectfully allow for differences of opinion while embracing engaging discussion.

Individuals shall conduct themselves in a courteous fashion and respect the intellectual property of others. The 2025 GOSC promotes equal opportunity and treatment for everyone. Professional behavior is expected toward all conference participants, including speakers, volunteers, sponsors and exhibitors.

All forms of communication include public and private communications, social media posts, direct messages, phone calls, and other forms of written, verbal, and non-verbal (including visual) communication.

Expectations of Attendees & the Public

Harassment in any form will not be tolerated. Harassment includes any communication with, or behavior towards someone involving offensive gestures, verbal and written comments, posts on the internet and social media, deliberate intimidation and belittling or bullying, stalking, harassing photography or recording, disruption of talks or other events, inappropriate physical or electronic contact, microaggressions and unwelcome attention.

DURING THE CONFERENCE

Opening Spiritual Ceremony

The 2025 GOSC honours and recognizes spiritual and cultural diversity. To facilitate the procedure to safely perform the Smudge Ceremony, we ask that everyone demonstrate respect by remaining silent during the ceremony. No photos or recordings of any type are allowed.

A smudge is a spiritual ceremony performed by some First Nations, Inuit, Métis and Urban Indigenous people, and involves the practice of brushing smoke created by the burning of one or more sacred medicines over the body and/or room as a cleansing ceremony performed by an Elder who is an individual recognized by a community as being the carrier of wisdom and teachings rooted in the Indigenous culture.

Asking Questions

There will be no questions, interruptions or talking during presentations. You can approach speaker(s) after their presentation or during breaks, but be mindful and respectful of their right to privacy.

Videos, Photos, Audio Recordings, Live Feeds

If you do not want your image to appear, please notify 2025 GOSC organizers and inform the authorized 2025 GOSC photographer(s) accordingly. The 2025 GOSC will be recording most sessions and your image could appear in some of the videos (or in screenshots that may be posted). Live feeds are not authorized by anyone at any time.

PLEASE SHUT OFF OR PUT YOUR PHONES ON AIRPLANE MODE DURING EACH PRESENTATION OR TALK! LISTEN TO THE HOST'S DIRECTION THROUGHOUT THE CONFERENCE.

BE KIND & COURTEOUS

This is a first for us! We hope we've thought of everything and that the day runs smoothly. However, if anything goes wrong, please be patient as we will strive to fix issues as fast as we can.

Use of Media Associated With the Conference

Everyone must obtain an individual's consent before taking and using photos, videos, audio recordings or live feeds. When asking for consent, you must specify the intended use: in publications, promotions, on websites, social media, etc. Only 2025 GOSC officials may take/make or distribute audio or video recordings of the conference and distribute them via social media or other means.

Speakers, hosts, volunteers and exhibitors of this event that do not want content or information shared via social media are to clearly communicate this to the public, the media and attendees who are under the strict obligation to adhere to such requests.

Participants wishing to share information from this event and/or post photos via social media, whether of their own material or that of others, must adhere to individual social media platforms' stated rules and policies. All presentations, and discussions, will be recorded and may be uploaded, in whole or in part, to the 2025 GOSC official Website or YouTube for public viewing.

Reporting an Incident

Any 2025 GOSC attendee covered by the Code of Conduct who believes that they have been subjected to harassment, notices that someone else is being harassed, or has any other concerns about an individual's behavior should report the incident immediately.

Similarly, any breaches of the Code associated with media use should also be reported immediately. Potential violations of the Meeting Code of Conduct should be reported promptly to the 2025 GOSC organizer. All complaints will be treated seriously, promptly, may be investigated and/or police authorities could be asked to intervene.

Note that bad faith reporting under the Code of Conduct also constitutes a violation of the Code of Conduct, where bad faith reporting is defined as intentionally false and/or malicious reporting of code of conduct violations against another person.

Disciplinary Action

Individuals found to have engaged in behavior prohibited by this Code, as well as those making bad faith allegations will be subject to disciplinary action. The 2025 GOSC may take any action they deem appropriate, ranging from a verbal warning or ejection/prohibition from the specific activity in question (e.g., presentation, exhibitors venue or even the entire conference), banning them from future conferences run or jointly run by 2025 GOSC, revoking attendance at future events, and/or the reporting of their behavior to respective authorities.

Retaliation Is Prohibited

Any form of retaliation—including seeking to violate the confidentiality of an individual—against individuals who file a complaint or assist in an investigation or against any individuals suspected of doing so will not be tolerated by 2025 GOSC. Retaliation is a serious violation and breach of the Code, and will be subject to disciplinary action.

Social Media Policy

The 2025 GOSC supports the use of social media; we encourage thoughtful and considerate sharing of conference content only if you have obtained prior consent. In our view, sharing with the public via social media is one tool for public education and outreach and a key part of gaining long-term support for the disclosure of Sasquatch including all sentient forest beings and the protection-conservation of their habitat.

We encourage presenters to include personal and/or project social media handles, project hashtags or QR codes to external content on their slides, materials/content and posters. For those without personal/project handles or hashtags, consider including the conference hashtag (#2025GOSC) or a social media icon to let people know you are supportive of them posting about your work on social media.

Any presenters not wanting their presentation or research to be featured in social media posts must explicitly opt out of social media: this is best achieved by placing a “no social media” symbol on slides or materials. If presenters do not opt out in this manner, it shall be implied that conference organizers and/or attendees can share published research presented at the conference without consent.

NO RECORDING
NO PHOTOGRAPHY
NO LIVE-STREAMING
NO PUBLISHING ONLINE OR PRINT
WITHOUT EXPRESS PERMISSION

ZERO TOLERANCE

Swearing, threats or any act of violence will

will be asked to leave the premises

BE RESPECTFUL AT ALL TIMES!

If you do obtain consent from 2025 GOSC or its presenters:

- credit must be given to presenters/speakers whose presentation and/or content are featured in your post.
- the host, organizer or presenter/speaker has the right to delete or report posts or comments containing spam, irrelevant remarks, or items that do not align with their mission/integrity.
- personal attacks, promotion of violence or illegal activities, offensive material, or profanity will be deleted and reported.

The 2025 GOSC reserves the right to ban those who violate this Code. We ask that presenters and those sharing on social media be mindful of how photos, videos or other content may appear to the public.

Discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation will not be tolerated. All conference attendees are expected to abide by the Code of Conduct and all those engaging on social media are asked to apply the same respectful, courteous, inclusive and supportive conduct online as in person to ensure a safe, hospitable and productive conference.
